

Art Brut

I was introduced to Oliver Jeannin's work by a new friend I met at the fair. I have included the works of Oliver for the art brut factor, which I am a fan of. I appreciate it when people create their way and pursue their passions regardless of industry approval.

Oliver Jeannin is from France and trained to be a medical doctor and still practices. Oliver gets his inspiration from his dreams and embarks on a journey when he starts a creative piece, letting his emotions serve as a guide, rather than having a preconceived concept. Spontaneity is the name of the game for Oliver, which is evident in his works.

source : www.jonaquestart.com